Introduction

This document is part of a webpage for testing the capabilities of displaying a PDF file within an HTML file, stylized using Cascading Style Sheets. The test webpage is part of the "Test Pages" section of the website known as LibraryTrekker's Webase.

This document was originally drafted in Microsoft Word but was switched to and edited as an OpenDocument text file then converted to PDF using LibreOffice Version 24.2. It is a draft or Alpha version of an "Instrument of Surrender" between two warring factions of the fictional world of ZungAlexia, which is a part of my personal Star Trek canon.

This "Instrument of Surrender" is based on the real-world "Instrument of Surrender" between the Allied Powers and the Empire of Japan, signed on September 2, 1945, ending the Pacific Theater of World War II. Much of the language used from in that historical document is used for the fictional one found here.

As mentioned, this is a draft or Alpha version, so it will evolve over time and eventually be a part of the "ZungAlexia" section the website.

Thanks for reading this very early Alpha version and of course, "Live Long and Prosper".
